

BUILDING A SOCIAL SUPPORT NETWORK FOR THE 2016-17 ACADEMIC YEAR

The work we do in Expanded Learning is very gratifying but it can be lonely “at the top” as there are often not others [or very few] within the organization where we work who focused on this work, so take some time today to meet others who are your peers and get to know them as humans first and then what it is they do!

Pair up with someone at your table and use these conversation starters to begin building your relationship:

1. Today I wish I were
2. When I think of expanded learning I think of ...
3. I think my best quality is....
4. I am most proud of the following in my expanded learning programs
5. My favorite type of music is.....
6. I am currently [name of book] and I am reading it because
7. One growth/challenge opportunity I am struggling with right now and could use some help on is.....
8. If I could change the world I would ...
